1972 REAP Set At Funding Level Of $140 Million

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has announced the 1972 Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) at a funding level of $140 million. Subsequent legislation could change the level of the final 1972 program allocations.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program helps farmers to carry out needed conservation and environmental protection measures on their farms with costs shared by the Federal government. Major emphasis is placed on long-range preservation of the environment, and on practices which will return more benefits to the public at less public cost. The Rural Environmental Assistance Program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service through its farmer-elected committee system. The Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service and Extension Service provide technical and educational assistance.

Consistent with the report of the House Committee on Appropriations the 1972 program will provide protection for continuation of 1970 program practices and procedures as such need may be determined by county committees.

Emphasis will continue in 1972 on cost-sharing measures that result in enduring conservation benefits, and on redirecting the program towards environmental improvement. High priority will be given, as it is in the 1971 program, to those practices that offer: – significant pollution abatement, particularly sediment – substantial improvement in the quality of the environment.

Secretary Hardin cited the following as examples of high priority practices in some areas: establishing permanent stands of grass or legume cover to hold soil in place and allow maximum insoak of rainfall without runoff; waste management practices that prevent or correct water, air or land pollution problems in and around farm livestock and poultry barns; and building ponds, diversion terrace detentions or other structures to control sediment or chemical runoff. He noted that sediment is still the number one pollutant in water in streams and lakes from the standpoint of volume.

The 1972 REAP will give a lower priority to temporary or short term practices.

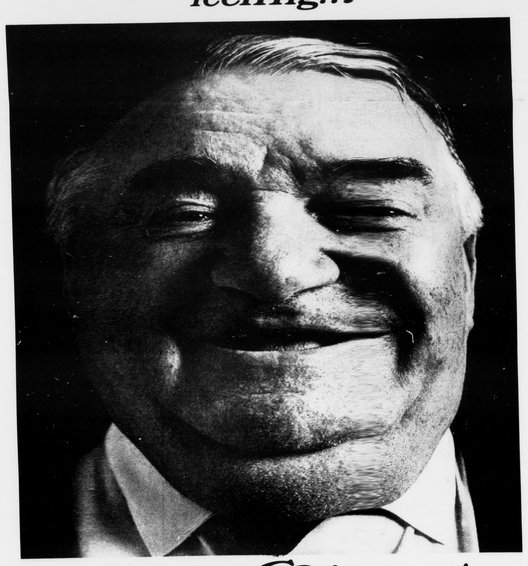
A wonderful feeling...



cash for Christmas!

What is it about Christmas that makes us feel and act so differently? Maybe it has something to do with love and the chance to give to people we really care about. But giving costs money. And the thought of all those bills coming due in January can spoil the joy. Make this the Christmas you do something about it. Like opening a Fidelity Christmas Club Account. Or even two. (One of our bank officers has three!) Each week, salt away a few dollars . . . five, ten, whatever's easy. And Fidelity helps your savings grow—we add a big 5% interest on paid up clubs computed on a 50 week scheduled basis. Then next Christmas your shopping money is ready and waiting for you. Think of it. Cash for Christmas! Your own Christmas savings plus interest. It's enough to make you want to deck the halls. Fidelity National Bank, with 25 locations to serve you. Member FDIC.
